

Transforming Lives through the Power of Food

2011 Annual Report / 2012 Calendar

State of the Agency

Dear Friend of Second Helpings:

This year has been one of transition and growth for Second Helpings. We experienced leadership changes, unprecedented growth in demand for Hunger Relief services and launched an initiative to dramatically expand our ability to respond to hunger in our community. Amid that transition our Board kept an eye toward the future, building a 12-year strategic plan and crafting a new mission statement, "Transforming Lives through the Power of Food" that embraces all of our programs and aspirations.

It was a year marked by leadership changes, although our new CEO isn't so new. Jennifer Vigran has been a volunteer since 2000. Jennifer's hands on experience with our programs over the last decade and her leadership on our Board of Directors facilitated her transition to a new role as CEO.

We welcomed back Chef Sam Brown to lead our Culinary Job Training Program. Sam is a graduate of Class #8 and an award-winning, classically trained chef. He returned to Second Helpings bringing new experience as an executive chef and culinary instructor at Ivy Tech, which offered him a new perspective on our curriculum both as an educator and an employer.

We celebrated with Class #49 and #54 graduates Keith Mays and Sunil Deo as they received the highly selective ROSE Award from the Indianapolis Conventions and Visitors Bureau. We applauded Chef Sam Brown when he received the Center for Leadership Development's Human Achievement Award. Representatives of all of our major food donors joined us to mark our 13th anniversary and the rescue of our 15 millionth pound of food. And we learned that we will be the Official NFL Food Rescue Partner for the 2012 Super Bowl.

The ice storm of 2011 presented challenges for the entire community, but our staff and volunteers made sure that no one missed a meal. We sent out an extra 1,500 meals with our regular Monday production to make sure that the shelters had everything they needed while we a new mission statement, Transforming Lives through the Power of Food. We believe that our new mission statement says it all about the impact our Hunger Relief and Culinary Job Training programs have throughout the community. Whether it is feeding children in an afterschool program so that they have the nutrition they need to succeed in school, a hot balanced meal for seniors to ensure that they don't have to choose between medicine and food, or the job and life skills our graduates need to break the cycle of poverty - Second Helpings is having a real impact in improving the lives of thousands of people throughout Central Indiana.

The very first challenge presented in our Strategic Plan is to increase the number of people served by our programs. When we moved into our current facility in 2004, we took great pride in knowing that we could now produce 1,500 meals each day; but this year we recognized that at 3,000 meals daily, our Hunger Relief kitchen had reached its capacity with many agencies still on a waiting list. We analyzed our systems and our equipment and launched a Hunger Relief Expansion project that doubles our capacity within the existing footprint of our facility. Our expanded capacity will give us the ability to serve so many more of our neighbors throughout Central Indiana.

Transforming Lives Through the Power of Food is a bold statement and a challenge to make sure that the work we do each day is meaningful and impactful. We couldn't do it without the support of our donors and volunteers who make it possible.

were closed. When we reopened on Thursday, our staff was prepared to fill in for our volunteers, but volunteers braved the ice and snow and together we were able to resume production without missing a beat.

But winter eventually turned to spring and summer and thanks to Christ Church Cathedral, Keep Indianapolis Beautiful, and many volunteers, we built a new herb garden at Second Helpings that both provides a bounty of fresh herbs to enhance the flavor of our meals and serves as an outdoor classroom to help our culinary students learn all about growing and using fresh herbs. For the first time we established a regular presence at a farmers market and our volunteers were warmly welcomed by the vendors and patrons at the Zionsville Farmers Market, rescuing 2,355 pounds of fresh produce.

In May 2011 our Board of Directors passed a 12-year strategic plan with

Thank you.

Jerry Adams
Chairman of the Board

Jennifer Vigran
CEO

P.S. As we have spent the last year focused on the future of Second Helpings and our role in fighting hunger and poverty, it seemed only fitting that our Annual Report this year be a calendar filled with the images and ideas that reflect not just the year that was, but the future ahead.

Second Helpings delivers nutritious meals to hungry people throughout Indianapolis. For some of these children, families, and seniors, this is the only meal they eat every day. Since opening our doors in 1998, we have distributed nearly six million meals throughout the Indianapolis community. That's a lot of lives being changed through the power of food.

Last year Second Helpings:

- Rescued 1,731,740 pounds of food
- Distributed 653,367 meals
- Redirected 999,094 pounds of food

Since 1998, Second Helpings has:

- Rescued 15,325,410 pounds of food
- Distributed 5,644,378 meals
- Redirected 7,549,872 pounds of food
